More information

- I'm an open-minded and enthusiastic girl, dreamer but also purposeful. I love being surrounded by people and I love culture and languages. I enjoy travelling also for this reason, because I think that the real way to discover and understand different cultures is to see different countries. I do love reading, it's another way of travelling and makes me feel rich. Moreover, I think that my student career as an Opera singer contributes to complete me as a person and my education. Singing gave me the possibility to travel and to meet people, and it also gave me another perception of what is considered real. In addition to that, Opera is an important part of the Italian culture as Literature and Art. Music is not only helping me to fully train me as an artist and as a student in the humanistic field but it's also my great passion.
